MORROW CAN'T LOSE WARLEY.

Democrats from all parts of the State report that the prospects for success in November are most flattering. The weakness of Morrow as head of the Republican ticket being apparent to everyone, and it is now whispered in the G. O. P. that Hert and Searcy certainly pulled a "bone" when they awarded Morrow the gubernatorial nomination without a contest. Either Gov. Black, Judge Carroll or Mr. Searcy, the strongest of the three judging from the attitude of the Republicans who want Carroll for the nominee. So fearful have the Republican machine become of Gov. Black that it was reported at a meeting Tuesday night in the Tyler Hotel that the "boob Keystone" police are tearing Gov. Black's cards down in this city, that is those of the comedy cops who can read and tell the difference between the cards posted in public places.

The other State races are shaping up so as to give one a line on the winner, and many are busy picking the winning slate. In the Lieutenant Governor's race W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, although getting a late start, has now gained a strong lead and should win easily. In the Auditor's race Col. J. P. Brouse, of Somerset, is being making an energetic canvass and his friends predict that the Bosworth followers will be given the surprise in their life. Strange to say, R. C. Muehl, of Jackson, is developing remarkable strength in the cities for Attorney General and his managers predict him a winner. In the contest for Clerk of the Court of Appeals W. G. Baxter, of this city, is making the race with John A. Goodman, of Todd county, and plans to secure a big vote here from the local Democratic organization. Alvin Steger, of Owen county, the other candidate, has been making a State-wide canvass, and claims that he will run a better race than four years ago when he lost the nomination on a "fluke." Prof. R. S. Eubank is making a runaway race for Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the same applies to John W. Newman for Commissioner of Agriculture. Mat. S. Cohen made the only post-winners one, as the turf sheet says, in his race for Secretary of State and needs only wait for the certificate of election.

In the Republican ranks there is one important feature but it is a forbidden subject with the G. O. P. press and leaders and that is the candidacy of the colored Republicans. The candidacy of Warley, the colored man for Legislature, is not confined to Louisville but the colored voters of Kentucky have made it a State issue and the only way for Warley to lose is to be robbed by the Republican machine. But the cure for this lies in the Warley campaign slogan; which is now in print: "Mr. Morrow is sure of defeat if Warley is cheated at the polls." The Shelby Record has caught on to the curves of the Bingham press, judging from the following in its last issue: "The Courier-Journal and Times, while they have not said who they are every way to embarrass Gov. Black, and it is a ten to one shot they are either for Carroll or Morrow. They claim to be Democratic organs, yet they take part for candidates in the primary, and in doing so do not hesitate to make Republican capital for the nominees of that party between August and November. Judge Carroll is already handicapped by the support of these Louisville dailies that claim to be Democratic."

County Attorney C. E. Evans, of Simpson County, in an address to a gathering of Democrats at the Tyler Hotel Tuesday evening, also threw in broadside at the Courier-Journal and Times, calling attention to their present "straddling" performance and their continued attempts to stir up strife in the Democratic party. Mr. Evans said that Democrats throughout the State are predicting that the Bingham press will support Morrow and the Republican party.

The opinion of the Shelby Record is now becoming wide-spread and Democrats throughout Kentucky have become wise to the fact that there is method in the madness of the Bingham press. The attacks on Gov. Black, Senator Stanley, Democratic appointees, Democratic organizations, etc., are delirious, but they serve their purpose—ammunition for Mr. Hert and the Republican party. Many Democrats have solved the purpose of the Hert-Bingham combination in this way: The Courier-Journal and Times were torpedoed by the Democratic party from all angles and if wrecked Mr. Bingham and his friends will obtain the nomination for United States Senator; his friend, Boss Hert, of the Republican party, will have the G. O. elephant in down that year allowing Mr. Bingham to go to the Senate. The following Senatorial election Mr. Hert will secure the Republican nomination for the Senate. Mr. Bingham will have the Democratic donkey play dead and, presto! Mr. Hert will join his friend as the other Senator from Kentucky. Sounds plausible and will be a pretty plan—that is, if it works.

INTO ETERNAL REST.

Though not unexpected, the Rev. Gustave A. Vantroostenbergh, chaplain of the Good Shepherd convent, died Tuesday morning of kidney and stomach trouble at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been ill for ten days. Father Van was a priest widely known throughout Kentucky, where his heartiness and genial disposition won the friendship of people of all classes and religious beliefs. The history of his life is very interesting. Father Vantroostenbergh was born in Brugge, Belgium, February 2, 1849. He attended the Louvain College, finishing his theological studies at Old St. Thomas Seminary in this diocese. When he arrived in America for the American missions he came to Kentucky, where his brother, Rev. Edward Vantroostenbergh, was pastor at Uniontown. "Father Van," as he was called to distinguish him from his brother, was for many years pastor of St. Raphael's church in Daviess county, then went to St. Charles in Marion county. Because of poor health he accepted the chaplainship of St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington, remaining there for some time. Returning to this diocese, he became chaplain at the Little Sisters of the Poor, then pastor at Hodgenville. Some years later Father Vantroostenbergh was called to Louisville to act as chaplain of the Good Shepherds, on Eighth street, where he remained until death. He died at the Tyler Hotel at 10:15 p. m. on Tuesday morning, July 16, 1919. He was 70 years of age. He was buried at Nazareth on Thursday morning in the chapel of the Good Shepherd convent, from where the remains were taken to Nazareth for burial.

LITERATURE AVAILABLE.

The employment bureau of the National War Council, 657 South Fourth, asks that the Catholic business girls be in mind when looking for a stenographer or book-keeper to substitute for someone not available, and also to tell the office whenever they hear of a position in order to help some other girl. The rest room of the council will not be open on Sunday afternoon during July and August on account of the summer hot weather, but will continue to be open every evening, including Sunday, for the use of individuals or meetings. A number of good magazines are now available for home reading. The July numbers of the Catholic World, the Atlantic Monthly and the Bookman have just been received, as well as those of the Catholic Charities Review, Extension Magazine, also weekly numbers of America, the Survey, and the Youths' Companion. Men as well as women are welcome to borrow these magazines.

VINCENTIAN COMMUNION.

Tomorrow morning the members of the local conferences of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will assemble at St. Vincent de Paul church and receive holy communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass. This is the annual observance of the feast of St. Vincent de Paul, their patron. It is expected that the attendance will be about 500. In the afternoon the general meeting will be held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, where the annual reports will be read by Secretary Thomas Bohan.

APPOINTED SECRETARY.

Miss Margarette Habich, of this city, has gone to Washington in the capacity of private secretary to Congressman Ogden. This an honor not only to the young stenographer, but also to the school wherein she received her business training. Miss Habich is a graduate of St. Helena's Commercial College, and is but one of the many who records place the stamp of efficiency on the training given at this institution.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA.

The degree team of Sister Mary Jean Circle, of this city, accompanied by many members visited Jeffersonville last Sunday afternoon, where they initiated the charter membership and instituted the recently organized circle of the Daughters of Isabella in that city. The occasion was a really pleasant one and the work of the Sister Mary Jean team received high praise.

JOHN D. RUDD.

John D. Rudd, aged seventy-nine, for many years a well known figure on the streets and in Catholic circles, died Tuesday night, following a year's illness of stomach trouble. In a sudden turn of fortune, he was a generous donor to all charities. Three years ago he married Miss Mollie T. Burke, who survives him. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Anna R. Taylor, who resides in Michigan. The funeral services were held yesterday morning at the Cathedral, where he had long been a regular attendant.

QUEENSTOWN CATHEDRAL.

In August the splendid Cathedral of Queenstown, Ireland, will be finally completed and dedicated.

DE VALERA

Urges American Recognition of the Republic Formed by Irish People.

Bases Erin's Plea on the Idens

Wilson.

Deeply Humiliated by the Hissing
at the New York Meeting.

GIVEN OVATION IN CHICAGO.

A fifteen-minute demonstration greeted Eamon De Valera, President of the Irish Republic, when he rose to speak at a luncheon in his honor in Chicago last Saturday. He was borne on the shoulders of guests at the speaker's table and carried around the room as he waved an Irish flag in one hand and an American flag in the other. De Valera came to Chicago Saturday morning and was received by a committee of 100 and a large crowd. Among the events on his programme Sunday was a mass meeting at the National League Baseball Park. In his luncheon address he told his auditors they were "like those whom your great Lincoln ironically derided as upholders of the great principle that 'if one makes a slave of another it is nobody's else's business'." The principle of "self-determination" of nations, he said, was the basis of ten of the fourteen points, which "your President put forward as America's aims in the war and the grounds on which America would make peace." He said the Irish people had "seized the opportunity of the recent election to prove in a peaceful manner that they desired an independent republic. The word 'secession,' as applied to our movement for independence, is a misapplication of the term, for there has been no previous voluntary union or partnership," he said.

"Our only demand of England is that her forces of occupation be removed in order that the Government set up by the Irish, which I have the honor to be the Chief Executive, may function as they desire it to function. The recognition of this Government and of the republic by the American nation as the true Government of Ireland will assist us materially in our efforts to carry out the will of the Irish people, the French armies, the Commander of the French armies, has awarded him the Croix de Guerre with a gold star. The citation was issued May 5, and he was then praised for his bravery in the Argonne when he was wounded again by the United States.

Referring to the hissing of the name of President Wilson at De Valera's New York meeting the speaker said:

"What I think is this: I would be humiliated if my presence in your country were a cause of the just and reasonable claims of the Irish should be made the occasion of any demonstrations of hostility to your President. He is your President, and while as Americans no doubt you have a right to criticize him, you will forgive me for saying that it is not in good taste before a stranger. I am here to obtain the aid of all lovers of liberty in America, and they embrace all sections. Those who would identify us with any sections and those who set unworthily what is a holy cause, are the worst enemies of Ireland, even though it be unconscious. I can not see any good purpose that it served by the press exaggeration of the New York incident. As I pointed out this morning one or two in a meeting can make a great noise, and it would be an obvious device for those who are opposed to our cause to send agents for that purpose."

IRISH RACE ARMY.

For seven hundred years England has fought and has sought to destroy the Irish nation by uprooting it from its native soil and driving it with the scourge of fire and flame, with the scourge of famine and persecution, with the scourge of degradation and calumny, to the four corners of the world, thinking that at last the might of her empire would be opposed only by the feeble remnant of the race clinging to the homeland.

The glory of the present Irish movement is that it is showing England that she is confronted not by four and one-half million people in Ireland, but by an aroused and enraged Irish race thirty million strong, meeting her with the face of Nemesis wherever her agents go throughout the length and breadth of the United States, in the island of the Southern Cross, and in the tri-ly locked gates of the Peace Conference. This is the army of the Irish race, springing to arms, an embattled nation, purposeful and determined to end the long enslavement of the motherland.

Every Irish man and woman in whose protestations of a desire to see the old land liberated there has been any sincerity should be enrolled today as soldiers of this great army, in some branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom or other society affiliated with that national organization, for every such society is a regiment standing to arms for the great battle on the field of world-wide public opinion. Everyone should consider his or her duty to be the duty of a soldier, to whom it would be disgraceful to be out of rank in this tremendous crisis. When the long battle is over and the great victory won, every man and woman of Irish blood will rejoice; but only those can rejoice honestly who can give the right ringing answer to the question 'What did you do in the war for Irish freedom?' England's mercenaries are paid to do their unholy work. It is the pride of American freemen that they can not be bought to do such villainy, but are eager to pay for the privilege of doing the holy work of freedom. Let us be proud to pay for the privilege of helping Ireland.

ALL THE WOUNDS DECORATED.

A year ago this time it was and misadventure moon flooded the muddy fields of France in brilliant light. Up in the front line in the Fond du Lac woods near Pont a Mousson the boche "minnies" were ripping big holes in the Eighty-second division positions and over the parapet, and waving an American flag in the other. De Valera came to Chicago Saturday morning and was received by a committee of 100 and a large crowd. Among the events on his programme Sunday was a mass meeting at the National League Baseball Park.

In the clear moonlight it was suicide to rush supplies to the upper trenches and none tried it. Then to the amazement of the Americans a "Casey," a tremendous big fellow he was, climbed over the parapet, and dragging a huge burlap bag after him crawled through the mine to bring his boys smokes, chocolate and doughnuts. Within a few yards of the communication trench the exploding shells closed nearer and nearer to the big fellow, and then he lay flat and still in the shadow of a shell hole. A terrific explosion, the boche had found the range, and they picked up "Casey," his leg blown to bits, but smiling:

"I got a few smokes for you, kids." That was the way it happened, and Joseph Patrick Crowe, the fearless K. of C. Secretary, has just received word in his home in Binghamton, N. Y., that Gen. Petain, Commander of the French armies, has awarded him the Croix de Guerre with a gold star. The citation was issued May 5, and he was then praised for his bravery in the Argonne when he was wounded again by the United States.

Shortly after the United States went into the war "Joe" Crowe tried to enlist in the army, but was too old. As a "Casey" under five major Castles, of the Eighty-second division, says, Crowe was a "man clear through."

The thousands of mothers and fathers of heroic American soldiers and sailors who died in England, France, Belgium and Germany will soon receive photographs of the graves where their boys lie. Recently the "Casey" workers decorated all the wounds with laurel wreaths, and so many letters were received from heart-broken parents and sweethearts and wives, asking for a description of the resting place of their loved ones, that the Knights of Columbus decided to photograph all the graves and send them to the nearest kin of the fallen fighters.

Above each mound, in serious rows, white crosses mark the graves and on each cross is plainly painted the name of the dead American, his company and the date he was killed.

MAKES PARENTS HAPPY.

With the last mail from the A. E. F. word was received of the promotion of Second Lieut. William Shinnick to First Lieutenant of the Fourth Infantry, Second division, now with the Army of Occupation at Coblenz, Germany. This is quite a distinction for the Shelbyville boy because of the fact he was a Provisional Second Lieutenant from the first training camp and at the expiration of two years he was to have taken an examination for Second Lieutenant in the regular army, and this promotion coming ahead of the time allotted speaks well for his ability as a soldier. He has been overseas since April, 1918, and was in the major offense. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. D. Shinnick, Shelbyville, who gave also another son to the service of his country.

FROM THIS CITY.

Thomas Cummings and Joseph Pruch, two Louisville boys, were members of the class of twelve recently graduated from Mount St. Francis College, founded by Mary Anderson-Navarro, at Floyd Knobs. The Very Rev. Father Leo, Provincial of Friars Minor Conventuals, was present and conferred the honors. The graduates will enter the Franciscan Novitiate at Syracuse in August, where they will receive the habit of the order.

PIRIEST VISITS SISTER.

The Rev. George Harig, professor of natural science at St. Patrick's Seminary, Menlo Park, Cal., has been here visiting his sister, Mrs. John A. Doyle, and Mr. Doyle. Father Harig frequently spends his summers in Louisville, where he has many relatives and friends.

Well, the local "reform" administration is skidding badly again and an S. O. S. call has been sent for the Men's Federation leaders to bring their anti-vice chains around; gambling, bootlegging, negro hold-ups and one or two negro shootings, the usual murder in the number, being on the programme this past week. In the negro murder case the "reform" administration followed its usual procedure. No report was made by the Coroner, no report was made by the Chief of Police, and the same old alibi was thrown out by the Keystone police that they believed the negro was killed by unknown soldiers from Camp Taylor. Whenever our wearers of the rusty uniforms don't arrest or are afraid to arrest negro rascals or murderers the crime is charged to unknown soldiers at Camp Taylor. Our Shelbyville Chief staged another of his famous shakings this week in the police department, but in line with past performance there was no report made by the Chief of Police, and the same old alibi was thrown out by the Keystone police that they believed the negro was killed by unknown soldiers from Camp Taylor. To get back to our good brothers in the Men's Federation, who used to orate from the Housepots about crime and vice, and who would be hanging around the Mayor's door every morning to register a protest about this or that what they charged to mis-government, imagine if you can these things happening under any other administration but a "reform" one. The country has been divided into the City Hall, prisoners bound for Frankfort start a riot in the jail, and the Jailor asks the Warden at the Frankfort Penitentiary to please punish the inmates for the riot. The country has been divided into the City Hall, prisoners bound for Frankfort start a riot in the jail, and the Jailor asks the Warden at the Frankfort Penitentiary to please punish the inmates for the riot.

Early Monday morning the Keystone police seized a big auto outside of the Inter-Southern building, and in accordance with the usual custom, hauled it to Central Police Station, where a fee of $3 is extracted from the owner before the machine is released. But horror of horrors! the poor old Keystoneers who brought the auto were called all the boneheads in the category when it was discovered that the auto was the property of His Most Royal Highness Chesley Searcy, Chief of Police and Trusted Keeper of the Wampum in the Republican party. For punishment the poor Keystoneers were forced to clean off the car, fill up the gas tank and bring the car back to its proper place. They further punishment they were forced to go up the Inter-Southern steps on their hands and knees, and on entering the presence of His Royal Highness with many a salam and kowtow offer abject apologies for the mistake. It is further rumored that instead of securing the customary $3 for the auto seizure the auto pirates had to cough up $3 for the reform fund.

But here is the point we want to make. What does the Men's Federation think of this case, which is but a duplicate of the result when the cars of Lewis Johnson, of the Board of Safety, and Judge Bingham were picked up for violation of the auto ordinance laws? And outside of our non-working Men's Federation what a holler should come from the auto owners who are forced to come down to Central Station and cough up $3 for their cars, the $3 evidently being punishment because the owner is not a prominent or influential Republican. Speaking of the auto ordinances, the actions of the near detective who spots cars in the central part of the city is sure amusing. This bird prowls from curb to curb with a big piece of chalk in his hand, and after saying "one-mene, mone-mo," a few times marks a car with the "boo-doo" sign, which means the owner is to be nicked for $3. Now and then he catches a big audience about him, delivers a little lecture on Col. Petty's auto ordinances and passes out a few pamphlets. Many strangers have gotten the angle yet, and they think the auto detective is a corn doctor with the regular ballyhoo lecture when they see the daily performance. By the way, many would like to hear from Col. Petty on how much has been gathered in on this auto seizure fund, what it is applied to or who gets it. Members of the General Council took a round about fling at the Keystone police the other night in casting reflections on the rusty, rusty uniforms of the "yap" cops. The speakers didn't want to come right out and knock the joke police, but used the attack on the uniforms as a subterfuge and as a hint to Chief Petty and the Board of Safety that the public were soured fast on the deteriorating police department. Along this line the Chief tried to offset the failure of his Keystoneers as mounted police by purchasing wholesale a lot of flivvers to carry the "hicks" around. This hasn't worked very well though, as the "boys from the sticks" just don't seem to be able to handle the pesky flivvers as well as street cars and there are numerous smashups and wrecks. This week the Lieutenant in the Fourth Police district lost all control of the "goi derped thing" and the flivver and its rider climbed the sidewalk, thence into a citizen's yard and made an effort to go uninvited into the man's house, only being backed out of the narrowness of the door. Of course, some women and children narrowly escaped getting killed, but Petty's Keystoneers must have their fling, "gosh dash it." No, there wasn't any mention of this in the daily papers, as it didn't get past the censor.

The fire department hasn't filled up with "hicks" as fast as the police department, because the fire unwritten law is that no one ought to give favorable mention in their next report to the reel driver who drove away the other night to a fire holding an umbrella as a protection against the rain. Spectators along the route cheered with laughter, but the one-handed driver probably believed he was living up to the Republican doctrine of protection—at least from the rain. There is a man on South Eighteenth street who, in company with the insurance men who used to come to America and had to pay, can't see anything funny about the "hick" firemen. His garage was on fire. The comedy firemen came and put it out. At least they thought they put the fire out. Anyway, the flames broke out and back they came on the second run, but instead of getting to work on the fire they became involved in a hot argument as to why the fire broke out again. While the argument grew hot so the end of the story, also the garage.

YOUR OWN HOME.

The strong tendency for home ownership to make for sturdy citizenship is being stressed in a statement made by Cardinal Gibbons: "The root of the commonwealth is the homes of the people. In proportion as our people are home owners, the country gains in stability. Home is the primal school. It is the best and most hallowed and most potential of all academies, and the parent, especially the mother, is the first and most influential and cherished of all teachers. The individual and national character may be traced to the training imparted under the domestic roof, and its beneficial of baneful influence may be gauged by the religious and moral standard of the family circle. Let your home be your own home, the seat of domestic peace, sobriety and parental love. Let discontent and angry words be banished from it, and under such influences your children will grow in virtue. Above all, let it be the asylum of daily prayer and the breath of God and the God of angels will be there."

BISHOP THEN.

The Right Rev. J. Henry Then, Bishop of Denver and delegate to the Hibernal convention of the National Council of Catholic Bishops, celebrated his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary on Monday. Bishop Then was born at Oldenburg, Ind. He was ordained to the priesthood April 26, 1886, and consecrated bishop of Lincoln on July 5, 1911. His transfer to the See of Denver took place September 21, 1917. He is one of the great men of the church.

QUETLY WEDDED.

Leo Stephen Glenn, of this city, and Miss Ann Cecilia McHugh, of Bowling Green, were quietly married Tuesday afternoon at Holy Name church, the Rev. John O'Connor performing the ceremony. The only attendants were Mrs. Burch J. Hagan. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Glenn left for a two weeks' visit to French Lick Springs. Miss McHugh is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McHugh, of Bowling Green.

ECLIPSES.

There will be a partial eclipse of the moon on the evening of November 8. Only one-fifth of the moon's diameter will pass within the shadow of the earth. The last eclipse of the year will occur on the morning of November 22, and will come within the observation of all in the eastern section of the United States. Astronomers describe it as a partial eclipse of the sun.

NAZARETH.

The retreat for the Sisters of Charity at Nazareth, which began on Thursday of last week, conducted by the Rev. Father O'Connor, S. J., will come to its close today, the feast of St. Vincent de Paul. This was the second retreat and was attended by about 400 Sisters.

FATHER FELTEN

Silver Jubilee of a Well Known and Beloved Louisville Priest.

Festivities Will Begin Tomorrow and Continue Over Three Days.

Will Be a Solemn, Interesting and Largely Attended Religious Occasion.

ACTIVE AND EARNEST WORKER.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Francis Felten to the holy priesthood will be one of the most solemn, interesting and largely attended religious occasions of the Catholic diocese of Louisville. Not only is Father Felten well known in Catholic ministerial circles, but he is also the treasured friend of the most prominent citizens of Louisville. At present the jubilarian is the beloved pastor of St. Martin's church on Shelby and Gray streets, which through his executive ability has become one of the most progressive parishes of the city.

Rev. Francis Felten was born at Osnabruck, Hanover, Germany, on March 6, 1872. After completing his college education there in 1893 he made his study of philosophy at the University of Vienna, Austria, and later studied theology at Elchstadt, Bavaria. His last year in the seminary was spent at Chur, Switzerland. On July 22, 1894, with Papal dispensation, he was ordained to the holy priesthood at the age of twenty-two.

How the young neophyte happened to come to America will be found in the following narrative. He was going through some old papers of his deceased mother when he came across the address of an aunt residing in Louisville. He wrote to her telling her that he was about to be ordained to the priesthood, and in her joy at the news told the late Rev. Francis Zabler, pastor of St. Martin's church. He in turn spoke to Bishop McCloskey, who availed himself of the opportunity of having the young neophyte ordained for his diocese. Father Felten arrived in Louisville on October 6, 1894, and his first mass in America was celebrated in the church of which he is now pastor. Father Felten was first appointed chaplain of St. Joseph's Orphanage, later becoming pastor of St. John's church near Paducah. From there he came to Louisville and presided at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament on Washington street during the vacation of its pastor.

His permanent work really began with his accepting the appointment as pastor of St. Augustine's colored church at Fourteenth and Broadway. His work at this church, of which he was pastor for nearly four years, stands out like an open book and needs no comment further than to say: "He who runs may read." One event we might mention in connection with his work at St. Augustine's was the disposal of the property at Fourteenth and Broadway, and the purchase of a new church and rectory at Thirteenth and Broadway, accomplished by his judgment and foresight.

On May 13, 1917, Father Felten was appointed to succeed the late Rev. Louis C. Ohle as pastor of St. Martin's church. With his usual energy he went to work, and the evidences of his short pastorate can be seen in the beautified field of his work. The parish has been fully reorganized, the buildings have been rejuvenated and the surroundings have taken on a park-like appearance, which speak more eloquently than words could express. As an acknowledgment of his earnest labors, the following jubilee programme has been briefly outlined:

Sunday, evening, 8 o'clock, the celebration will be held at a large, consisting of musical numbers by the church choir and orchestra, address by a leading clergyman, presentation of the jubilarian with a purse and gifts from the various church organizations.

Monday night, 8 o'clock, solemn high mass for children of the parish followed by their celebration.

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the jubilarian's solemn high mass, attended by about seventy-five visiting priests, followed by a banquet at 1 p. m. At 8 o'clock in the evening festivities for the choir and the jubilarian committees.

HIGHLY ELATED.

President George Nabers and the Catholic Orphan Society feel highly elated over the success of the Fourth of July picnic for the benefit of the St. Vincent and St. Thomas Orphan Homes. At a largely attended meeting Monday night the Knights of Columbus Hall the awards of prizes were made in a most satisfactory manner. The lucky winners of $100 bonds were Leslie J. Hackett, Thirteenth and Grand, and Mrs. Frank J. Ritter, Thirtieth and Cedar. Fifty dollar bonds were awarded Jerry Bacon for the orphans and Dr. J. M. Morris, 1935 Frankfort avenue. F. A. Kauff, 1456 Sixth street, received the diamond ring, while the photograph went to J. I. Hall, 527 M street. The Kentucky Irish American can safely say the net proceeds will exceed $12,000. To all who in any way contributed to this success the society and orphans wish to express their gratitude.

SHOULD BE INVITED.

We do not know definitely yet whether De Valera, the President of the Irish republic, will visit here. We suppose he will. We have heard reports that he has been—or will be—officially invited by our leading citizens to pay us a visit. This is no more than proper courtesy to the man who has been duly elected as President of the Irish republic. One thing has struck us in connection with the speeches delivered by De Valera. He is entirely sane, and appeals to America's love for democracy and liberty for a hearing. That appeal goes home, for Americans are lovers of liberty everywhere.

DELICATE QUESTION.

A few weeks ago some ill-advised individual raised the question whether we should not have colored councils of the Knights of Columbus. We agree with the True Voice that this is a delicate question—but scarcely practical. There could not be more than three or four such councils in the whole country. The number of colored Catholics would justify no more. Either admit the Catholic negro to full membership in any council he chooses to join or exclude him entirely. Half-way measures are dangerous—and in this case they would lead to complications.

WHO WON THE WAR?

In a speech delivered on his return home President Wilson said: "The American went in, and it had not been for America THE WAR WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN WON. My heart swells with a pride that I can not express when I think of the men who crossed the seas from America to fight on those battlefields." Field Marshal Douglas Haig, the head of the British army, gave the answer to President Wilson in an address at Newcastle: "Don't forget it was the BRITISH EMPIRE THAT WON THIS WAR. We talked a great deal about our Allies. It was necessary and right that we should do so to buck them up all we could while the fighting was going on, but don't forget it was the British Empire that won this war."

This is the same flag who was whining for America's help and "fighting with their back to the wall" was the British plea during the last year of the war. Gen. Foch, Cardinal Mercier, King Albert and others are on record as saying that America saved them all, yet John Bull with his characteristic greed and hypocrisy will not concede credit to anyone else. Yet many wonder why Ireland wants to live separately from this bully and despotic nation.

LUCKY FOR CARSON.

Lord Carson, the rebellious North of Ireland Englishman, says he doesn't want America meddling in England's affairs. It's lucky for domineering Carson and his kind that America meddled in the recent war, or they would have been earning their bread by the sweat of their brow and paying tribute to Germany.

AMERICA IS INTERESTED.

English officialdom is reported to be very wrathful because America evinces more than a passing interest in the Irish cause at this time. Even the Chicago Tribune, that a few months ago insisted that the Irish question should be kept away from America, is forced to admit that we have now an Irish problem here in America, and it intimates that our Irishmen are just as persistent, our Irish question just as firmly rooted and its chances of longevity just as promising as in England.

"If England wants to know how all this stir came about," it says, "it has only to refer to the theory of the guaranteed integrity of race. The Irish are a race and they claim nobody has guaranteed them anything except English rule. They want their independence warranted. They allege that warranty has been promised. The longer it is denied the longer it will complicate English and American politics. The home rule bill has been tabled again. There has been a reiteration of the policy that Ulster must not be coerced. Ulster is the minority, but it is Irish. Whoever heard of any people, any gathering, any organization being in sweet accord? Somebody always votes no. As well order the moon not to shine until all the stars turn pink. The British resent our interest in the Irish question. Well, we'll agree it isn't the best American policy. But England can arrange the whole business very neatly by making a settlement with Ireland?" A very good way out, if the settlement is in accordance with justice and Irish aspirations. If not, it may as well not be offered. The Irish problem will persist until justice is done to Ireland. And America will be interested until Ireland is free.

LOOK OUT, EPISCOPALIANS!

The Western Recorder, an official organ of the Baptist church, which is bitterly anti-Catholic and which has for years been taking a fall out of us denigrated "Papists" and "Romanists", has now gone after our good Episcopalians, and in its last issue delivers a typical Baptist broadside against the Episcopal church, as follows:

For some time there have been outrageous church arrangements in connection with the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. Every student was forced to attend Episcopal services unless he would sign a statement that, for conscientious reasons, he was opposed to attend these services. Of course a large majority of the students could not conscientiously sign such a statement, though had we been among the number we would have had no hesitancy whatever in signing the statement. Any church that would deliberately be a party to such ecclesiastical tyranny would afford abundant cause for us to conscientiously absent ourselves from its ritualistic services. This, by the way, recalls a little ancient history. Time was, in Virginia, when under Episcopal domination Baptists were whipped and imprisoned because they dared to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. Instead of worshipping Him according to the ecclesiastical whims of a horse-racing and wine-drinking clergy. Unfortunately, as far as our information extends, no Episcopal historian has ever apologized for the cruel and inhuman treatment shown Baptists during the early history of Virginia. In the light of religious conditions, which for quite a while obtained at Annapolis, and which one word from Episcopal church authorities would have remedied, it is altogether probable that such an apology will be long delayed.

CARSON INSULTS AMERICA.

The 12th of July celebrations were carried out Saturday in Ulster on a large scale. Sir Edward Carson, the Orange leader, speaking at the demonstration in Belfast said: "There is a campaign going on in America at the present moment, fostered by the Catholic Church, which will soon be joined by the Germans, in order to create a great anti-British feeling. Heaven knows I want good feeling between America and this country. I believe the whole future of the world probably depends upon the relations between the United States of America and ourselves, but I am not going to submit to this kind of a campaign, whether for friendship or any other purpose. I seriously say to America today: You attend to your own affairs; we will attend to ours. You look after your own questions at home; we will look after ours. We will brook no interference in our own affairs by any country, however powerful. It is not for that we waged the great war of independence which has just been concluded. What right had an American mission to come to this country—come here in a breach of hospitality of one nation toward another—to attempt to stir up strife in matters in which they were not connected?" Sir Edward Carson denounced Sir Horace Plunkett, who he said was elected Chairman of the Irish convention because he was "thoroughly hated and distrusted by both sides," and added the speaker, "a nice mess he made of it."

NAVY YARD

Military Field Mass Celebrated Under Auspices of Knights of Columbus.

Right Rev. William T. Russell Held Attention of the Vast Audience.

Declaration of Independence, the League of Nations and Ireland's Freedom.

NAVAL CHOIR SANG THE MASS.

At the Victory Fete field mass at the Charleston navy yard, celebrated under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, the Rev. E. A. Brodman, chaplain, U. S. N., acted as celebrant of the mass, assisted by Rev. Father Hyland and Rev. Father Mackin, while Rev. J. J. May was master of ceremonies. Present in the sanctuary were Bishop Russell, Rev. T. McElroy and Rev. M. J. Reddin. Right Rev. William T. Russell held the attention of the audience while he delivered a powerful address on the Declaration of Independence, the League of Nations and Ireland's freedom. The navy yard choir rendered a beautiful mass in F under the able direction of Mrs. J. E. Wingo. Bishop Russell spoke as follows:

Today we commemorate the occasion when our forefathers, flinging off the shackles of Great Britain, declared these United States a separate nation. It was an event fraught with the most far-reaching consequences not only for the people of the United States, but for the whole world. This was due to the fact that their act was not merely a revolt against tyranny but because with certain inalienable rights that impelling them embodied the fundamentals of all just government. Two hundred years before the discovery of America these principles of our Declaration of Independence were upheld as essential Catholic doctrine by our greatest theologian, St. Thomas of Aquinas. For this reason I take the principles enunciated in that declaration as my text. Briefly today I shall endeavor to accentuate two of the leading ideas in that declaration of independence and conclude with a recommendation of our duty in the present crisis of our national existence. The fathers of our country declare in this document of independence that they hold as self-evident the truth that all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

My friends, we are drifting from these sound principles. There is a decided tendency today to consider the government as the creator of these rights. Many of our people carried along by the swift current towards centralization of all power seem to forget that the government of the United States does not create the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. God alone is the author of these rights. He has bestowed them upon each individual. No man or any number of men, however large, can justify claim to create these rights or abolish them. This government, like all other governments, must have for its sole object to safeguard the God-given rights of its citizens. To curtail the God-given rights of any citizen except in so far as is necessary to prevent him from infringing upon the equal rights of others, or to prevent the exercise of his rights unless the protection of the nations demand it, would be tyranny today as it was in 1776. The second idea of the declaration we are honoring today which I wish to emphasize is that governments derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed." That, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government. This is what we call in these times

W. G. BAXTER.
W. G. Baxter, of this city, has always done yeoman service in the cause of Democracy and is now Deputy Clerk of the Appellate Court, having served four years under J. Morgan Chinn, and is rounding up his fourth year under the present clerk, R. W. Keenan, and will hold his same position under Mr. Goodman. W. G. Baxter, who numbers his friends by the thousands, not only in the city, but in the State at large, is a most capable Deputy, and Mr. Goodman is to be congratulated upon his securing his service.

BLACK FOR GOVERNOR

Nearly twenty years ago Hon. James D. Black, a leader of a staunch little band of mountain Democrats, who were Democrats from principle and not for the spoils of office, asked recognition at the hands of his party, but recognition was denied and he went down a victim of machine politics. He lived then as now in the Republican stronghold of Knox county, where Democrats are few and far between. His friends and kindred, his own brother even, were Republicans, but James D. Black accepted defeat without a murmur and stuck loyalty to his party for fifteen years, asking nothing more than the privilege of voting year after year for his party's nominees, the tickets often including those who helped defeat his own aspirations. Four years ago Mr. Black, now one of the State's most prominent and successful lawyers, modestly asked to be nominated not for Governor as before, but for the little office of Lieutenant Governor, in order that the fighting Democrats of the Eleventh District might at least have a place on the ticket. A strong effort was made to deprive him of this honor, but the people at the polls placed him upon the ticket and bulldozed wiser than they knew. In the political cataclysm that followed, when the Democrats had to fight for the very life of the party, Judge Black's name was a tower of strength for weaker men on the ticket, and when the votes were counted his name, like Abou Ben Adhem's, led all the rest. He led his hard pressed ticket with 9,000 majority, while all others trailed behind. Some got in by the skin of their teeth and others failed to get in at all. Knox county, overturning a Republican majority of upwards of 2,000, went for Black and hundreds of mountain Republicans followed his leadership and saved the Democratic party from a crushing defeat. The Eleventh District, the rejected stone, had become the foundation of Democratic success with its unexpected Democratic gains. A grateful party should recognize Mr. Black's services by promoting him to the office of Governor with the same unanimity that the Republicans have recognized the man who would have won but for Judge Black. A man of his recognized ability, his time-tested democracy, his unquestioned loyalty and his wide-spread popularity should head the Democratic ticket this year, without another exhibition of machine politics and sleight-of-hand performances in securing nominations and fastening about the neck of the Democratic party a load that will drag it down to the bottom of the sea. . . . The Kentuckian supported Judge Black in both of his previous campaigns—for Governor in 1900 and for Lieutenant Governor in 1915. It sees no reason why it should not do so again. If the purpose is to elect the ticket after it is nominated. We believe that Judge Black is the strongest man in the Democratic party and for that reason whatever influence the Kentuckian has will be given to him again.—The Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

my duty as an American citizen. For as an American citizen I, like you and every other citizen, should answer this question; and having answered it to our satisfaction we should make known our convictions to our representatives in the House and Senate at Washington. Let us consider the subject carefully, let us listen to the arguments for and against this league of nations, let us like our fathers in forming the constitution of the United States prayerfully invoke the aid of Divine Providence, and then as citizens of a free country, let us answer, as American citizens, whether this promise of a world's peace justifies us in sacrificing a part of freedom purchased by precious blood and maintained with

WORLD'S LARGEST BUILDING.

The Vatican Palace at Rome is the largest building in the world, covering thirteen and one-half acres, but with its additions and enlargements it was several centuries in building. The most extensive building in the world constructed at one time is the Pennsylvania station in New York city, which occupies eight acres of ground and has exterior walls measuring about one-half a mile. The Capitol at Washington covers 153,112 square feet, or nearly four acres.

WHO WON THE WAR.

Many have argued as to who won the war. The question is now settled. Great Britain was the principal victor. Before the war the total population of the British Empire was 450,000,000, and the total area 12,400,000 square miles. At the present time her total population is 483,000,000 and her area 15,500,000 square miles. Or in other words, under Great Britain's flag now is one-third of the earth's area and one-quarter of the world's population. In the words of a well-known agitator, "Lloyd George will bring home the bacon and Wilson will bring home the sequel." But England is not the only winner. Japan is carrying off enough loot to make future peace impossible. Kiao-chau and Shantung with their large populations have been placed under the yoke of yellow imperialism. The sooner the world realizes that Japan is ruled by military leaders and rules by Prussian methods, the better for the world. Of course, Italy is striving to be a winner. With well-known greed she claims Dalmatia and Fiume. Italy went into this war primarily for plunder and her representatives must bring some back from France, otherwise the people will think they have fought in vain, and a revolution might ensue.

One thing is sure: The peace conference has shown that England,
Japan and Italy fought for small nations. England fought for the German colonies and part of the Turkish Empire. Japan fought for Shantung and Kiao-chau, and Italy fought for Dalmatia and Fiume. To the victors belong the spoils, and night still makes right.

WHO WILL WIN?

Rev. Father Boes and the people of St. Aloysius church have made every preparation for their annual picnic and supper, to be held next Thursday on the church grounds at Pewee Valley. The feature of the evening will be the awarding of the Ford touring car and the barrel of flour and who will be the winners.
Father Boes has been an indefatigable worker and hopes his Louisville friends will come to the assistance of the missions under his care. Lagrange and Pewee Valley cars leave the Interurban station every half hour and will stop at the grounds. The ladies of the congregation are known for the good meals they serve, and they hope to have many of their friends to enjoy them. Ample accommodations for automobile parties will be had, and all prizes will be positively awarded on the church grounds.

ENGLAND'S

Greed and Hypocrisy Exposed by Irish Commissioner Frank
P. Walsh.

List of Territory and Peoples Awarded to Great Britain in Peace Terms.

And Lloyd George Said: "England
Went Into War to Help
Small Nations."

JOHN HULL'S ENORMOUS GRAB.

Chairman Frank P. Walsh, of the American Commission for the Independence of Ireland, has just issued a statement exposing the greed of England and shatters her hypocritical claim of plunging into the war as a friend of small nations. In the peace terms just completed Great Britain has seized nearly 1,000,000 square miles of territory with a population of over 10,000,000 people and land that is rich in minerals, etc. Commissioner Walsh says: "On November 10, 1914, Lloyd George declared: 'As the Lord liveth, England does not seek a yard of territory.' We are in this war from motives of purest chivalry, to defend the weak."

"On February 27, 1915, Lloyd George indignantly denied that England desired territorial or other aggrandizement, and that it was a lie manufactured by the enemy."

Now here is an official list of England's grab of riches and peoples under the terms of the peace commission, and demonstrates on which side the lies and deception are:

"German East Africa—Area, 384,180 square miles. Population, 7,665,294. There are 620 miles of coast line and many fine ports.
"German Southwest Africa—Area, 322,200 square miles. Population, 190,386. Immense deposits of iron, copper, lead and diamonds.
"German Samoa Islands—Area over 1,000 square miles. Population, 35,136.
"Nauru is a small islet just south of the Equator. It is of tremendous value on account of the richness of its deposits.
"The Bismarck Archipelago, the German Islands of the Solomon Group, the German Portion of New Guinea—Area, 94,200 square miles. Population, 530,984.
"Britain has seized Egypt. Nineteen times the King of England declared, through his Government, that Great Britain would never annex Egypt or declare a protectorate over it.
"After the occupation England pledged herself more than forty times not to remain permanently in Egypt.
"Notwithstanding this, England has seized Egypt. Every vestige of her freedom has been swept away. Egyptians are excluded from positions of authority or emolument. Conscription labor is being imposed upon the fallen with gun and lash. Thousands of Egyptians are being beaten with the knout and are shot down by English soldiery; their cities and villages are being ravished and burned. Her delegation of protest, consisting of eminent Egyptian citizens, headed by Said Pasha Sagool, Vice President of the Egyptian Assembly, lately interned for months at Malta, now are virtually held prisoners in Paris at England's command.
"The spoliation of Egypt by England adds to her already enormous acquisitions an area of 350,000 square miles, and a population of 13,000,000 souls.
"Apart from the greedy accomplishment of England in the subjection of peoples and the acquisition of their territory, her grip upon the balance of the world is immeasurably strengthened by the treaty of peace.

"The American point about 'the freedom of the seas' was scrapped outright.
"The strategic advantage won by England through the seizure of vast territory, the rape of Egypt, and the transfer to England of Turkey's power in relation to the Suez Canal makes not only the Mediterranean, but all the seas, mere British lakes.
"England likewise is dominant in the control of the League of Nations, Sir Eric Drummond being given the Secretaryship.
"European statesmen agree that the Secretary of the League of Nations will be a powerful factor in holding England's imperialistic gains and further her aggressions."

FATHER DUFFY'S APPEAL.

Rev. Father Francis P. Duffy, Chaplain of the Fighting Sixty-Ninth, the Irish Regiment of New York City, and who was awarded the highest honors of any chaplain in the army and navy, made the following stirring appeal for Irish freedom in Madison Square Garden, New York City, last week:

"We are here on this platform in uniform to represent the loyal service rendered by men of Irish birth and blood to the Republic of the United States during the late war. Most of us belong to a regiment that went out of this city, all volunteers, and nearly all Irish, stronger in numbers than the Irish Brigade in the Civil War ever was. We have left of our numbers, on the fields of France, nearly seven hundred men, to rest there forever, who died under the folds of the banner of this Republic. Almost every man that we brought out from us has come back bearing a wound stripe to mark the blood that he shed for this country, and we have come back here to raise our voice in the name of those whom we left behind in France for the country that they also loved so well—a voice of soldiers of Irish descent and blood, soldiers, friends of ours, of every descent, men that loved liberty and fought for liberty—to raise our voice to ask the question why one land of all the world should be deprived of blessing of liberty."

THE COSMOS OIL AND REFINING COMPANY

Takes Leap Into the Deep Sand Big Gusher Field of Eastland County, Texas.

The representative is now on way to Desdemonia, where they will start development work on their tract in this great field, practically in the shadow of wells making from four to ten thousand barrels daily.

This company is backed by many Louisville men and from various other sections of the country, among whom are widely known experienced oil men. Among those who are backing this company are such men as

Paul Burlingame, Louisville, Ky.
S. T. Castleman, Louisville, Ky.
Geo. T. Browder, Louisville, Ky.
H. H. Hutchinson, Middlesboro, Ky.
Stanley Frost, Lexington, Ky.
H. L. James, Elizabethtown, Ky.
J. T. Cresap, Elizabethtown.
U. R. Templeton, Palestine, Ill.

W. R. Tischendorf, Louisville, Ky.
T. P. Bradley, Louisville, Ky.
E. B. Strube, Louisville, Ky.
F. T. Bradley, Lexington, Ky.
Col. Clyde Gaines, Winchester, Ky.
J. B. Pierce, Elizabethtown, Ky.
J. W. Calkins, Prairie Depot, Ohio.
Eli Howell, San Antonio, Texas.

Thos. R. Reid, Louisville, formerly of El Reno, Okla.

And Others Whose Principal Object Is to See This Company Made One of the Biggest and Best Independent Companies to Be Found.

Their Kentucky holdings are extensive, but it is to Texas that they look for the big production. They confidently believe that anywhere from five to ten thousand barrels daily is not too high to place the mark for their production by the first of January 1920, and every effort and energy will be directed toward this end. The initial offering of this stock is at fifty cents per share; thus giving the public an opportunity to get in at such a figure as offers the best assurance for quick returns. It is expected that this block will be oversubscribed at an early date, therefore those interested are urged to act now. COLONELS VS. BREWERS.

The Milwaukee team plays here again today, tomorrow and Monday, and as the Brewers are putting a lot of "pep" in their game the Colonels will have to be at their best to win a majority of the series. The former Louisville twirler, Jake Northrup, is with Milwaukee and will pitch against his old team-mates this afternoon or tomorrow. Northrup after leaving Louisville went to Indianapolis and while with the Hoosiers took special delight in beating the Colonels, which he did with great regularity. He has just been sent back from the Boston Braves and the fans wonder if he will still have his rabbit foot against our present team. Tomorrow afternoon is Twin City day at Eclipse Park, the Twin City League players and fans to turn out en masse to root for the Colonels and at the same time show appreciation of Owner Knebelkamp and the Louisville manager. Look out for the ropes in the field tomorrow.

HOTEL FOR GIRLS.

The Catholic Society for Befriending Girls will open the St. Cecilia hotel at Pel and Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, as a model hostelry for business girls and women earning small salaries within several weeks. The hotel, a large five-story building, admirably located in the civic center, has been leased for a term of years by Most Rev. Archbishop Hanna, Director General of the society, and the work of remodeling and making it up-to-date in every respect is already well under way. When completed the St. Cecilia will accommodate from eighty to one hundred girls, and offer to the young women the comforts of a modern hotel at moderate cost, together with certain privileges which are keenly appreciated by the business girl of small salary.

It is such a place as the above that Louisville greatly needs, and which the Sisters of Mercy are anxious to make of the Visitation Home for working girls.

ERECTING MEMORIAL.

The Franciscan fathers have undertaken the erection of a church in Athlone, the center of Ireland, as a memorial to the Four Masters.

STATUE OF LIBERTY.

The Statue of Liberty was presented to the United States by France in commemoration of the good will which has existed between the two countries. Frederic Auguste Bartholdi was the artist, and the statue was unveiled on Bedloe Island, New York harbor, October 28, 1886.

The figure is repousse, or hammered copper, 151 feet high, is crowned with a diadem and holds in its extended right hand a torch, while the left arm clasps close to the body a tablet having the inscription "July 4, 1776." The statue weighs twenty-five tons and cost $200,000, which was raised by popular subscription in France. The pedestal is 155 feet in height and is of granite and concrete. It cost $250,000, which was paid for by popular subscription in

TREATY AND THE LEAGUE.

The peace treaty has been signed at Versailles. President Wilson has returned to the United States, bringing with him the results of the peace conference, which bind inseparably the treaty and the League of Nations. In a foreword the Morning Star takes a calm view and says:

Momentous days are these upon which the fate of our country hangs, for the League of Nations is part and parcel of the treaty. If adopted, whatever befalls, for good or for evil, the United States will be committed to a new policy, widely divergent from that marked out for us by the framers of our constitution, and which we have followed successfully for nigh a century and a half. As a nation we are now entering upon a new era, and it behooves us as a people to pause and ponder well this document in which our destinies will be irrevocably bound up with the other nations of the world. In the new path upon which we are entering there is nothing in our past experience by which we may be guided, no light of other days to illumine the unknown path which we are called upon to tread.

In this hour, more than all others, are we fix our signature to that by which we will forever bind and enter into engagements from which we can not recede, must we realize the necessity for Divine guidance. Again must we deplore that in drawing up this momentous contract for the government of the world the Creator and Lord of us all was so studiously ignored, and the chosen Viceroy on Earth of Christ, the Prince of Peace, was denied a place at the peace table. Men have set themselves up as the supreme arbiters of the destinies of nations and peoples. Let us pray that God may yet shed light upon their blindness, that the ideal of a world-union of nations, strong and just, the powerful protecting the weak, the weak relying with absolute confidence upon the strong, and all co-operating and working and living together in brotherly love, may be realized.

It might be acknowledged, however, that from the present condition of the world, with nations still pitted against nations, despite the signing of the peace treaty, we are very far from realizing this beautiful ideal. Here in our own land, it seems, a bitter campaign will be waged against the adoption of the treaty and the plan of the League of Nations.

There is much to be said for it and against, but if objectionable features can be eradicated, if our sovereignty as a great free nation will be preserved and guaranteed, if the great purpose for which we entered the war, the freedom of all the small oppressed nations of the earth, Ireland included, is acknowledged and achieved, then let us, for the sake of the good of all mankind, "hitch our wagon to the star," and with prayers for the guidance of Congress and of our President, commit to God our future as a nation and a people.

YOUR HAIR.

The roots of the hair penetrate the skin about one-twelfth of an inch. Hair is very strong. A single hair will bear a weight of about 1,150 grains.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Cotton frocks are popular for vacation wear.

The fan is enjoying revival in the fashions, the large ones most in evidence.

Don't forget that the floppy hat, the drooping hat and the willow hat are made for youth.

Hats made of organdie and georgette on transparent frames are in the center of the field of fashion.

Remember that the first quality of a cotton pet gown is fulness. The same rule holds good with organdie.

Don't forget that there is a feeling that the extremely long skirt, especially for the street, has had its day.

Gowns of voile and foulards have their place, but they do not usurp the niche kept for the coat and skirt with its white or colored blouse.

Crepe de chine continues to be one of the most sought-after fabrics for summer frocks. It is used in all colors and for all occasions.

Don't overlook the fact that there never was an uglier line than that of a scant skirt that is too tight in the back when worn by a woman that is a little bit too plump.

You certainly will not be out of the picture if you have the suits or frocks that you wear for walking made short enough to give you a certain amount of comfort and security.

Best equipped lease in Allen county, 57 acres, present estimated production 100 barrels. Room for 10 more wells.

HINTON LEASE

DEARING LEASE

One producing well on pump, connected with tank—250 barrel capacity and Well No. 2 ready to be shot and connected up. Both can be pumped from Tucker lease. Acreage 200—Room for 50 or 60 more wells—oil struck at 105 feet.

Crude oil is worth $2.60 per barrel. Three refining companies want the oil, are competing for it. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Airplane, J. L. Penn, will leave this week to arrange the shipping and selling the oil daily and to contract to put down ten or more wells at once.

KNEBLEKAMP DAY.

The Twin City Baseball League turned some stirring contests Sunday afternoon at Shawnee Park, and despite the torrid weather big crowds were in attendance. Mackin Council and the Hibernian team played one of the prettiest games ever seen on a local diamond, the Y. M. I. boys winning 1 to 0, the game being a pitchers' battle between Stier and Ahman, the latter twirling for Mackin and striking out thirteen men. Unfortunately for the winners the game was protested and the protest upheld by the league, the game to be played over probably at the field day. The protest was because of Mackin playing a man who was ineligible. The Alumni boys and the K. of C. furnished another feature game, the St. X. boys winning in a 2 to 0 contest. Shawnee Athletic Club won out over the California Club in an 8 to 3 game. The Twin City has never in its history had as close a pennant fight and interest is at fever heat. In accordance with the annual custom the Twin City has called off all games for tomorrow and the players and fans will celebrate "Kneblekamp day" by attending the double-header at Eclipse Park tomorrow and rooting for the Colonels. The standing to date:

RECENT DEATHS.

Wednesday morning the funeral of Annie Connelly, aged thirty-five years, was held from St. Patrick's church. She was the daughter of Bridget Connelly, 1609 Portland avenue, and the late Matthew Connelly.

Friends and relatives feel deep sympathy for Mr. and Mrs. John Connelly, 200 Water street, from whom death has taken their little daughter, Mary B., whose remains were laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Glenn, thirty-seven years old, widow of William Glenn, was called from this life Saturday morning at her home, 2205 St. Xavier street. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keenan, two children and one brother survive her. Funeral services were held Monday morning at St. Cecilia's church.

The angel of death certainly laid a heavy hand last Sunday on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Barker, 1403 East Breckinridge street, when their only daughter, Marcella DeWitt Barker, nine years old, was called to join the heavenly hosts. The little one was of a happy and loving disposition and among her friends and relatives her absence will be keenly felt. Her father is Secretary of the Democratic County and City Committee and has received many expressions of sympathy. The funeral took place Tuesday morning with requiem high mass at St. Bridget's church.

ST. DENIS REUNION.

Rev. Father Zoeller and his parishioners are preparing to entertain a big gathering at the reunion and picnic of St. Denis church, which takes place next Tuesday on the church grounds at Shively, Ky. There will be amusements and games of all kinds and the ladies are preparing to serve a chicken supper for their guests.

Lenihan was struck by another machine from Eberts Field. The second machine also fell, but its occupants were not injured.

BUILD NOW!

FOR A GREATER LOUISVILLE.

Turn Your Vacant Lot Into a Paying Investment

OWN YOUR OWN HOME AND AVOID HIGH RENTS

You Waited Years For an Opportunity Like This--You'll Wait Years Again

Have you seen people hunting this town over for a place to live? Have seen rents? Then meet the demand by building a house on that vacant lot, and turn it while you have a "top market." If you want a safe, sure, certain investment, buy a lot and build a house on it. Don't wait for prices to go down—they aren't going down for years. The time to build is when the market is good. Prices may be high—so are your returns.

Have you planned to own your own home? Then now, if ever with rents going still higher, is the time to build just what you've wanted and move into it.

You can get materials and labor and deliveries now—a few months hence, when the building and Reconstruction movement is in full swing you'll wonder why you pass the chance you have now.

Every house you build releases another home or apartment—adds to the prosperity of the city—adds to your prosperity. Talk this over with your contractor and start figuring today.
